RESEARCH INTERESTS

My research interests lie at the intersection of labour economics, gender studies, inequality, and public policy evaluation. My work is empirical and applied in nature.

I have a strong interest in quasi-experimental methods and enjoy constructing original datasets.

Currently, I am working with a survey experiment and generating a DB with web scraping techniques for my thesis.

WORK IN PROGRES

Cradled to segregate the market.

A survey experiment to causally identify the influence of family gender norms on occupational segregation.

Equality plans and the gender wage gap in Spain (with Sara Ayllón).

An empirical assessment of the effectiveness of Equality Plans in Spain, integrating policy evaluation with detailed analysis of the characteristics of the plans.

Towards an equal labour market? Evidence of unexpected substitutions in the spanish labour market (with Sara Ayllón).

Identifying gender discrimination in the Spanish labour market using unexpected worker exits as a source of exogenous variation.

AFFILIATION
